

Slacker Suspect Taken in Brooklyn, Held at Fort Jay

Long Sought as a Deserter, Officer Says, but Brother Denies He Evaded Draft; Man on List Cites Record

The arrest of another alleged draft deserter whose name appears on the War Department lists was reported yesterday. John C. Campbell, of 111 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn, was taken into custody at his home by Detective Luke McDermott and booked at the Bedford Avenue police station as a deserter from the United States Army. Later the detective turned him over to the authorities at Fort Jay.

Captain G. C. Graham, adjutant at Fort Jay, expressed pleasure at the apprehension of Campbell and said the army had been looking for him for several months.

McDermott said Campbell's name was carried in a "slacker" list published June 1. At the house James Campbell, the arrested man's brother, said the alleged deserter had gone West about the time his number was called in the draft here and that he had registered with a local board in Chicago, but had never been called. Recently, his brother said, Campbell returned to this city.

Removal of the name of Walter J. Becker, a registrant of Local Board No. 81, New York City, from the government's official list, was announced yesterday from headquarters of the 2d Corps area, Governor's Island. Notice of the removal says that Becker's name was not removed prior to publication of the list in which he appeared because of a clerical error.

A letter to The Tribune from Sydney John Williams, of Newport, R. I., advised that the writer, who formerly lived at 695 Fifth Avenue, New York City, published as a deserter recently, evaded the service.

"I wish to state," Mr. Williams writes, "that I left Local Board 159, Fifth Street and Park Avenue, on April 5, 1918; went to Camp Upton, left Camp Upton April 28, 1918, sailed on the steamship Mauretania; arrived Liverpool May 6, 1918, and arrived at Havre May 8, 1918. On October 30, 1918, I left St. Julien, which is outside the Argonne forest, and was honorably discharged from Camp Upton June 6, 1919."

Williams signs himself as lately of Headquarters Company, 325th Infantry, A. E.

Two youths in South Orange Village, N. J., listed as slackers by the draft authorities, served in the World War, and a third unsuccessfully attempted to get into every branch of service. Their names appeared in the list made public yesterday.

John Flower Kip, son of former Village President Ira A. Kip Jr. and Mrs. Mefford Runyon, was one of the first South Orange boys to offer his services. He was rejected, and went overseas with the Red Cross. He later was taken into the French army, was turned down by the army and navy examiners in this country because of a faulty heart.

Frank J. Kenny, who also is listed, is a son of former Police Sergeant Frank H. Kenny, of Montclair. Young Kenny was turned down by medical examiners in the army, navy and Marine Corps. He had been ill for some time prior to the declaration of war. His two brothers served in the army overseas.

Luigi Petruzzelli, of 59 Church Street, South Orange, also was listed. He served with the army overseas.

Cited as Draft Deserters

The Tribune prints herewith the fourteenth installment of names of men classified by the War Department as draft deserters from this vicinity. It does not attempt to publish the entire list of names released for publication in the 2d Army Corps Area, but only those of the greater city or its immediate environs.

The War Department takes the position that only through widespread publicity can the real draft dodger be exposed, and those not guilty of willful evasion of service cleared from the record. The Tribune therefore does not vouch for the accuracy of the lists, and will be glad to publish any corrections.

The commanding general of the 2d Corps Area on Governor's Island says that any registrant who actually served in the military or naval forces of the United States during the war, and who has any doubt as to his draft status, communicate immediately with the adjutant general of the army, Washington, D. C., relative thereto, setting forth the facts of his service, including the date, place and manner of his entry into service and the exact names under which he registered and served, the designation of the local board with which he registered, the place of his residence at the time of registration, and any other available identifying information.

Any registrant who actually served in the forces of one of the Allied powers should report at once to the commanding officer of the nearest military post, bringing authenticated evidence of that service.

Chinese Troops Attack Students and Teachers

Several Educators Seriously Hurt While Seeking Interview With Premier

PEKIN, June 4 (By The Associated Press).—Several hundred students, teachers and others seeking an interview with the Premier concerning arrears in pay to-day were attacked by soldier guards at the gates of the Cabinet grounds. The soldiers used the butts of their rifles and several persons, including the director of the National Medical School and the Vice-Minister of Education, are reported to have been seriously hurt.

The students had been conducting an independent demonstration and joined the teachers after the latter had conferred at the Ministry of Education and were proceeding to visit the Premier. The attack ceased when the soldiers learned the identity of the visitors.
